

THE SCHWEET FOODS HOMEMADE CHICAGO CHEESECAKE COMPANY
Pop-Up Shop Opens in Chicago's Austin Community

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Chicago, IL - October 21, 2017. Schweet Foods, a new and unique artisan cheesecake company just opened its long-term pop-up shop in Chicago's Austin community. Located at 5846 W. Chicago Avenue (at the corner of Mayfield and Chicago Avenue), the company launched its 6-week pop-up shop where it sells its "undeniably homemade and indisputably fresh" homemade Chicago cheesecakes. The store, which typically sells out of its mouthwatering desserts, offers flavors such as the Chocolate Chip Westside, The Viola with blueberries or strawberries, The Avenue, Pecan Pleasure and the Classic Faire. Uniquely, the shop also sells a quality African coffee and cheesecake cupcakes.

On the company's website (www.schweetfoods.com), Owners, Chamille and Brian Weddington, and Omani Harris tell the story of how the family-owned business was inspired by its grandmother to create the recipe that customers rave about. They simply wanted to eat homemade food and share it with the people they care about. They mention that "we don't sell super-fancy pastries that sit on the shelf for a long time, or freeze it up and ship it to customers on a plane. We're known for made-to-order cheesecakes that are simple and tasty. The company also sells their product online and delivers for free to Chicago locations.

Visitors can sample the decadent cheesecakes during normal shop hours, which are Thursdays and Fridays from 12 – 6pm, Saturdays from 10 – 5pm and Sundays from 1 – 4pm. Dessert lovers are reminded that they can even place orders in advance via the website through Monday, 11/20th for the upcoming holiday, and then pick them up in-store through 11/22nd.
